

Community Educator Application

DCRCC is honored to partner with community members as volunteers who are essential in advancing the mission of creating a culture of consent. We provide robust initial training and continued education opportunities that provide the tools, skills and content knowledge required of advocates and educators through our pathways of service.

There are two ways to serve as a community educator* with DCRCC:

Curriculum Facilitator

You will be trained to present one or more of DCRCC's sexual assault risk reduction curricula to youth at DC schools and community based organizations. DCRCC will provide ongoing training and support, regular supervision, and quarterly evaluation. There is no time in service requirement and your presentation schedule will be based on your availability.

Duties

- Facilitate DCRCC education programs in schools and community-based organizations
- Document session activities and feedback from participants and site contacts
- Collect evaluation data
- Communicate with school/organization contacts regarding logistics and related needs
- Participate in ongoing supervision and training with DCRCC staff

Requirements

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Adaptable and comfortable working with children and youth
- Ability to build rapport with diverse groups of people
- Strong decision making and problem solving capabilities
- Previous experience (professional or volunteer) in a teaching/training role preferred
- Must provide own transportation (most sites are accessible via public transportation)

All DCRCC community educators are required to:

- Be 18 years or older
- Complete a DC Background Check
- Attend a comprehensive 2 day training and mandatory orientation
- Complete a shadowing process and preassessment
- Commit to attending monthly supervision meetings
- Have regular day time availability
